HARD-PRESSED ROMMEL IS PUSHED BACK

British Eighth Army is Reported to be Within Probably 35 Miles Of Tripoli

AIR ASSAULTS MOUNT

By ALFRED E. WALL
London, Jan. 21.—The British Eighth Army, with a fighting French desert column on its left flank, pushed Marshal Rommel's hard-pressed rear guard down the coastward slope from Nefusa ridge to probably within 35 miles of Tripoli today in a continuing advance past the hill village of Tarhuna and the coastal road town of Homs.

The occupation of the towns, one 40 miles southeast and the other 56 miles east of Tripoli, yesterday was announced in today's Cairo communiqué which said Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces pushed on "in close contact with the enemy retreating to the west."

Under steadily mounting aerial assault, the Axis withdrawal showed signs of disorganization, but informed sources said there was no authoritative indication that bomb-battered Tripoli was being evacuated.

The occupation of the port by the British was regarded, however, as simply a matter of time, per- (Turn to Page Two)

INVENTOR OF POISON GAS DIES IN A FALL

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—W. Lee Lewis, 64, chemist and inventor of the "Lewisite" gas produced in wholesale quantities for the Allies toward the end of the last war, but never used, died in a hospital in suburban Evanston last night of injuries suffered when he fell from a second story porch of his home Tuesday.

Lewis, who was head of the department of chemistry at Northwestern University from 1919 to 1924, had been in ill health for several months, Evanston police said.

He served in the chemical war service in the last war and it was toward the close of the conflict that he invented the gas that bears his name.

Jap Position In Solomons Is Precarious

By the Associated Press
Trapped survivors of a 15,000-man Japanese army were reported making desperate attempts to break out of dwindling pockets in the Papuan coastal jungles of New Guinea today, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that American and Australian fighters "further reduced the enemy's remaining positions."

Heavy fighting was reported as the Japanese, half starved and in imminent danger of annihilation, sought to escape into the jungle. "The whole thing is crumbling," an Allied spokesman said.

In the Solomon Islands, the navy reported that U. S. Flying Fortresses scored a bomb hit on a Japanese destroyer off Bougainville Island and shot down eight enemy planes during an attack on two Japanese cargo ships and two destroyers in the Shortland Island group.

The navy's communiqué said American planes twice bombed Japanese positions on Munda Island, 200 miles north of Guadalcanal, where the enemy has been constructing a new air field.

Meanwhile, United Nations warplanes blasted the enemy from Burma to the South Seas, striking in a rising scale against Japanese bases on the northwest approach to Australia and spread-eagled hundreds of miles of skyway.

Coincidentally, Australia's air minister Arthur S. Drakeford predicted that Australian aircraft, blotting Australian planes, would pour Australian-made bombs on Tokyo before 1943 ends, but said long bitter war was in prospect before Japan is defeated.

Marines On 35 Are Dead Little Chance Of Change In Guadalcanal In Transport Plane Crash Ration Zones

Army Ground Troops Replace Leathernecks Who Are Having a Rest

REVIEWS WAR ASPECTS

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson disclosed today that army ground troops have replaced the marines in the Solomons and are commanded by Major General Alexander Patch, who has moved his headquarters from New Caledonia to Guadalcanal.

"The marines who fought so long and so well in the Solomons are now getting a chance to rest," Patterson said at a press conference.

The American position in the Solomons has improved further during the last week, Patterson said, but the Japanese are expected to make new efforts to reinforce their troops on Guadalcanal.

Reviewing other aspects of the war on various fronts, the undersecretary reported that except for submarine sinkings of Allied cargo ships, "the over-all picture is bright."

He said Russian successes against the Germans might force them to retreat to the Dnieper river to form a winter line, and that political differences among the French in North Africa had not stopped the French from taking an important part in military actions.

PROMINENT SURGEON DECLARED A SUICIDE

Orange, N. J., Jan. 21.—(P)—Dr. John Hammond Bradshaw, 82, one of New Jersey's most prominent surgeons, was found dead yesterday in his office, and a medical examiner's report listed his death as suicide by inhaling illuminating gas.

Dr. Bradshaw, who was personal physician to the late Thomas A. Edison and members of the Edison family for 40 years, had been ill several months.

Wildcat Strike in Anthracite Fields Ends Few Hours Before Back-to-Work Deadline

COURTESY TO CHIEF

BULLETINS
Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—The White House said today that President Roosevelt, learning of the general resumption of work in the anthracite mines, was gratified at the response to his appeal to the miners to end their strike "and is confident that the comparatively few who have not returned to work will join their associates in the mines."

Wilkes-Barre, Jan. 21.—(P)—A three-weeks old wildcat strike in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields—the nation's costliest in man hours lost since Pearl Harbor—apparently ended today a few hours before a back-to-work deadline set by President Roosevelt.

Enthusiastic miners by the thousands trooped back to their jobs in all major strike-closed collieries in what one strike leader described as "a courtesy to the president" rather than as acceptance of defeat.

Of the 24,000 who once participated in the revolt against United Mine Workers' leadership, barely 3,000 were known still to be idle as the crowds of over-alled workers rode down colliery shafts to their pits, many for the first time since Dec. 30.

Only three UMW locals still were out at noon. One of them, the Exeter of the Payne Coal Company, with 1,000 members—voted at a stormy session this morning (Turn to Page Two)

Credit Buying Of Gasoline To Be Prohibited

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—The Petroleum Administration today prohibited all credit buying of gasoline and other petroleum products by private motor cars, effective February 1.

The order provides that retail gasoline marketers or suppliers may not "grant, accept or participate in the granting or accepting, directly or indirectly of credit in connection with the sale of any petroleum product," but makes exceptions for sale to federal, state or local governments, for commercial use of motor boats, and motor vehicles displaying "T" ration stickers.

An order effective January 1 had limited use of credit cards to a single retail outlet. Previously these cards had been good in any station operated by the same company.

Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum administrator, said the original directive was to enable marketers to reduce bookkeeping, personnel, thus saving manpower and reducing costs.

Commenting on the new order, Davies said: "The intent remains the same. The amendment exempts motor vehicles displaying 'T' ration stickers, commercial motor boats, and government operations, in view of the peculiar requirements of these classes, and at the same time tightens the general restrictions."

12 INJURED IN PITT TROLLEY CRASH

Pittsburgh, Jan. 21.—(P)—Twelve persons were injured, one seriously, last night when two street cars collided and were derailed at the busy East Liberty intersection of Highland and Penn. avenues.

Police Inspector Albert Jones said after a preliminary investigation "one of the operators must have gone through a red light." Motormen on both the outbound Highland Park and city-bound Frankstown cars declared they "had the green light" at the time of the crash.

Father of 15 Enlists For Navy Police Work

Omaha, Jan. 21.—(P)—Pro-nounced "100 per cent fit" by the navy enlistment board, Verne D. Case, 45, father of 15 children, today was on his way to Navy Pier, Chicago, to prepare for shore police work, which he sought "to free a younger man for combat service."

The former St. Edward, Neb., police chief, who has three sons in the armed services and a fourth awaiting a call from the navy, said his wife and ten of the children will remain in St. Edward where they will be provided for. "Two married daughters live in Omaha."

"Everybody in the family is doing their part," Case said. "They said I could go, and I want to help get it over."

"Not Much More Trimming Of Consumer Goods" Nelson Declares

SITUATION REVIEWED

By the Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—The capital was cheered today by news of resumed work in the anthracite mines, an official review which called the general situation encouraging and an indication that the trimming of America's civilian economy was about finished.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson supplied the war account, telling a press conference that Russia's successes were particularly heartening, that in North Africa the Axis base of Tripoli appeared doomed and that American and Australian troops have outdone the Japanese in jungle fighting, "at which the Japanese thought themselves superior."

As for the folks back home, Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board said: "I would say that there is not much more trimming of consumer goods which would yield substantial quantities of war material."

At the capitol, Chairman Connally of the senate foreign relations committee (D-Tex.) announced that Josephus Daniels, (Turn to Page Two)

TO SLASH RATES FOR LONG DISTANCE CALLS

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—Long distance telephone users who require more than three minutes to complete a call will save about $22,800,000 a year, the Federal Communications Commission estimates, through new rate reductions.

The FCC announced last night that the American Telephone and Telegraph Company agreed to cut its overtime rates by making the charge for each additional minute one fourth of the charge for the first three minutes instead of a third as at present. The charge for the first three minutes remains the same.

Total reductions in long line revenues were estimated at $50,700,000 a year.

Many Yanks Will Stay Abroad After War, Author Predicts

New York, Jan. 21.—(P)—Prof. Walter Pittkin, who contends that "life begins at forty" and wrote a best-seller by that name when in his fifties to prove it, is retiring at the age of 65 after 30 years on the faculty of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism.

He cocked an eye at the future yesterday and prognosticated that many soldiers and sailors won't come home after the war "because they will find better jobs overseas than await them here."

Never one to shy from figures, Professor Pittkin estimated that 50,000 men will remain in Australia, 5,000 in Africa and 15,000 in New Zealand. He had nothing to say about Paris, but added that "a terrific mob of Americans will go into Latin America."

On the basis of his studies he predicted that 1,000,000 Americans will be employed in a worldwide network of airlines by 1950, while another 2,000,000 will be engaged in foreign police duty.

In a final spurge of prediction he said he believed that Russia might turn to capitalism, China to communism and that 250,000,000 persons would starve in Asia after the war.

He also foresaw many upsets in this country: Flarer homes, but a transient population that wouldn't live in them, inventions that would "revolutionize things" and, inevitably, "many political headaches."

Necessity of Asking For Deficiency Appropriation is Considered

SHAKEUP IS RUMORED

BY JACK BELL

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—Given a free hand to make or break himself, Prentiss M. Brown set sail on stormy OPA seas today with a bid for consumer support of a program envisioning gradually rising prices, increased local controls over rationing and fewer cold homes next winter.

Isolating himself for a 10-day look-see at the inner operations of OPA, the new price administrator went to work on several pressing problems. These included the imminent necessity of going to congress for a $20,000,000 deficiency appropriation, the need for additional transportation subsidy money and the possibility of shakeup in his agency's top personnel.

Brown, 53-year-old former senator from Michigan, took over formally from Leon Henderson with the reputed understanding that he would be given a free hand by his immediate boss, James F. Byrnes, the economic stabilization director, to work out the country's supply and demand problems with the consuming public, congress and the farmers.

Brown made it plain he was interested primarily in keeping the economic machinery operating at top speed to supply the weapons and food needed by the armed forces, without creating unnecessary friction on the home front.

One of his first projects, he said, would be to learn if water route transportation could not be used to greater advantage this summer in building up the eastern seaboard's supplies of fuel oil and gasoline for next winter.

Harmony Aim Of Leaders In Legislature

By the Associated Press
Harrisburg, Jan. 21.—(P)—The senate's Republican floor leader, Weldon E. Heyburn, Delaware, believes the current general assembly session will be "harmonious" and that it "should produce legislation of benefit to the commonwealth and its war effort."

"Next week we'll get the bills out of committee," he adds. "We are interested in getting a calendar ready so we can get to work and do a real job."

The legislature is in recess until Monday when both the house and senate will convene again at 9 p. m.

Before recessing yesterday, the senate received 41 bills including proposals to reapportion congressional districts, change school laws to permit pupils to help in the manpower shortage, set up a basic plan for local option referendum, and rip out the new state parole board.

Governor Martin reiterated his stand against extending civil service during the war, saying "it is unfair to us who stay at home to become permanent employees" while those in uniform are without that opportunity.

The new governor said he will appoint a committee to consider recommendations for the successor to Dr. A. C. Marts, who resigned his $10,000 job as State Defense Council director.

Chile, Chile, Jan. 21.—(P)—Chilean authorities undertook today the suppression of Axis espionage and liquidation of fifth column activity following Chile's rupture of relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

The government pledged that no steps would be taken against Axis nationals who abided by Chile's newly-adopted position.

It was estimated there are about 20,000 German nationals in Chile, chiefly in the southern part of the country, about 12,000 Italians, chiefly retail tradesmen spread evenly throughout the country, and 700 Japanese. The latter are comparatively recent arrivals and reside chiefly in northern Chile's strategic ports and mining centers.

President Juan Antonio Rios explained Chile's action last night in a broadcast address to the nation, saying it had been done for the defense of democracy and continental solidarity.

London, Jan. 21.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons today that Great Britain looked "forward to the day when the whole South American continent will have ceased to be in relations with our common enemy."

REDS DRIVE TO ISOLATE AXIS IN CAUCASUS

Soviet Shock Troops Reported Pouring Westward Across the Manych River

NORTHERN ARMY GAINS

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Russian shock troops were reported pouring westward across the Manych river to day 15 miles from the rail junction of Salsk in the drive to isolate the Axis army of the Caucasus and clamp an arm of steel about Rostov.

Fervent German efforts to fix a stable line along the left bank of the Manych, a placid lake-fed stream which flows into the Don 30 miles east of Rostov, are failing, field dispatches said.

Red Star announced that Soviet detachments were capturing point after point while the Germans were blowing up bridges and trying to lay mines in a rapid retreat. They already have been driven from a number of positions on the Salsk side of the Manych, it said.

There and elsewhere on the long front the Russians were declaring moving ever westward in the 10th week of their winter offensive, with Rostov, the steel city of Kharkov, the industrially important Donetsk center of Vorezhovograd and the Mairkop oil fields of the Caucasus their objectives.

(The German communiqué said there was "continuous hard fighting south of Lake Ladoga," where (Turn to Page Two)

MOTHER - DAUGHTER SEPARATED 42 YEARS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 21.—(P)—After a separation of 42 years, a mother and daughter were reunited here yesterday at the Carrick home of Lois Alberta Kelly, the daughter.

Mrs. Adda Goodrich, of Elderton, explained she had taken her daughter, then 18 months old, to the Rosalia Foundling and Maternity Hospital 42 years ago. Returning to the home within two weeks, Mrs. Goodrich learned the child had been adopted but could get no additional information.

Miss Kelly said she learned of her adoption on the death of her foster mother, Mrs. John W. Weinheimer, and began searching for her real mother. Mrs. Goodrich eventually was located in Elderton, Armstrong county, where she was living with another daughter.

New OPA Director
Bids For Consumer
Cooperation

at St. Ignace, Mich., with the aid of special essential-trip gasoline tickets, said he felt as bad about gasoline rationing as the public. He liked to drive through the Virginia and Maryland countryside, but that recreation is out for a while, he said.

Gasoline curtailment in the west is necessary, he continued, primarily to free rail tank cars to haul fuel to the east. Secondly to save tires. Questioned about the legality of the OPA's ban on pleasure driving in the east, he said he wasn't sure there was authority in the law for such an order. He added that he intended to follow the law.

When a reporter suggested that rationing might be localized, Brown seized eagerly on this proposal, observing that he, too, believed it might be possible to work out a system by which gasoline allotments could be made by counties and local boards ordered to distribute the fuel on an equitable basis.

"There is good argument for localizing price and rationing controls — it sounds reasonable," he said.

The stocky new administrator said he did not believe that prices could be held at a flat level, but would have to be permitted to advance about 1/2 of 1 per cent a month. He said he thought wages were rising also.

Marines On Guadalcanal Are Relieved

Construction of new ships now exceeds the losses from submarine sinkings, he said, but the Axis undersea attacks are still placing a heavy drain on shipping and supplies even though new ships "are both faster and better than the ones being sunk."

In North Africa, Patterson said, the rapid advance of the British 8th Army in Libya threatens Tripoli, and the "fall of the city" would seem to be a matter of hours.

In Tunisia, he said, there has been a lull due to unfavorable weather, but considerable air action has continued, with Allied planes still maintaining a two-to-one superiority over Axis air forces.

In the southwest Pacific, the Australian and American troops of General Douglas MacArthur's command have almost completed New Guinea campaign, Patterson said, and the Japanese force of 15,000 in eastern New Guinea "has been almost literally annihilated." Complete casualty reports have not been received from the Allied troops, Patterson said.

"You, John Jones" at Library Theatre Today

The finest talent from all fields of the motion picture industry combined their skill to make the war activities committee short subject, "You, John Jones," at the Library Theatre today. It is a feature of the current United Nations appeal.

The cast is headed by James Cagney who plays the part of John Jones, aircraft worker, air raid warden and father. Ann Southern plays Cagney's wife and little five year old Margaret O'Brien who captured the nation's heart in "Journey for Margaret." is their daughter.

The picture was written and produced by Carey Wilson who is the producer of the Andy Hardy series. Mervyn Leroy whose latest effort, "Random Harvest," is receiving wide acclaim, directed. The musical score was handled by Nathaniel Shilkret and Max Terr, both of whom were responsible for the score of "Random Harvest." Joe Rittenberg, one of Hollywood's leading camera men, directed the photography.

"You, John Jones" will be exhibited in thousands of theatres during United Nations Week.

to continue the walkout unless the president's ultimatum is delivered to them by a personal representative. They contended the order as presented to them did not bear Mr. Roosevelt's signature. A special meeting was called for 2 p. m. EST Monday to receive the president's reply.

Only one of the four was committed to "wait out" Mr. Roosevelt's zero hour some time this afternoon, when, he had said, the "necessary steps" would be taken if necessary to "end this strike which is doing serious damage to the war effort."

Strikers and others took the president's warning to mean that troops would be sent to take over and collieries still strike-bound at the end of the 48-hour grace he allowed when his order was telephoned shortly afternoon Tuesday.

The dues issue started the wave of walkouts December 30. Demands for a $2 a day cost-of-living bonus followed.

It was evident before starting whistles sounded at 7 a. m. (EWT) today that the back of the strike had been broken. President Roosevelt had said the government would take the "necessary steps" to reopen the mines this afternoon unless the 22-day unauthorized walkout ended. The warning was widely interpreted to mean that troops would be used.

The ranks of the strikers, once numbering 23,000, were thinned again last night when three unions decided to return. Like unions taking similar action previously, they did not discuss the strike issues—demands for a $2 a week wage bonus and a 50-cent cut in their $1.50 monthly union dues.

Cries of "back to work boys!" rang from their union halls. The 1,800 employees of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company's Prospect Henry Colliery yelled unanimous approval of a stop-strike motion and waived formal balloting.

Others in the strike returned in earlier peace movements heading pleas from the War Labor Board, the United Mine Workers, Solid Fuels Coordinator Ickes and other government spokesmen who had said the walkout was creating a hard coal shortage endangering the war effort.

Approximately 60,000 miners in the fields never participated.

Harrisburg, Jan. 21.—(P)—The Unemployment Compensation Bureau announced a ruling today that the wildcat anthracite strike was "a voluntary suspension of work" in an industrial dispute and Director Franklin L. Shallow said it invalidated any claims for jobless benefits by the strikers for a three-week disqualification period. The wildcat strike began in the hard coal region on December 30 and ended in most of the collieries today, near the close of the third week.

The ruling terminated the strike as "voluntary suspension of work" within the meaning of the law, Shallow declared.

The bureau chief explained the unemployment compensation law provides in ordinary cases where workers are unemployed through no fault of their own benefits may be paid after a two-week waiting period.

Salvage Committee Pleased
With Success of Tin Drive

Success crowned the efforts of the Warren County Salvage Committee in its first county-wide drive for tin cans.

This was the announcement made by Wylie T. Corbett, chairman of the committee, as practically all returns were in from collections in Warren and other communities of the county. Mr. Corbett stated that the goal of one carload would be reached and probably surpassed. Eight trucks from the Warren Disposal Company and Valentine's did the job of collecting the cans. The undertaking proved so great that a few sections were left undone Wednesday afternoon. These were covered early this morning. Mr. Corbett believes that the total weight of the cans collected will be more than the 15 tons originally hoped for. A few outlying schools remain to be heard from.

Mr. Corbett emphasized the excellent job of processing done by the housewives of the county. He stated that the cans had been processed according to official instructions in more than 99% of the cases. It was evident that housewives had read and closely followed the instructions.

Mr. Corbett referred again to the excellent work done by the two Sheffield schools, namely Washington School and Lincoln School. Much of the success in Washington School was due to the principal, D. J. Howard, and Mrs. Micklow. A number of students also turned in good scores in addition to Richard Shick and David Giesler, mentioned yesterday. These were Allen Millen, Sally O'Leary, Buddy Nelson, Jean Bromg, and Jack Landis. Lincoln School, with Wayne Chamberlain as principal, expected to equal the record of the Washington School in collecting 12,000 cans.

Other highlights of the drive were as follows:

The C. E. Kiley Electric Company turned in a large block of pure tin which will go direct to the war effort. In North Warren, under the leadership of Chris Pepke, forty bushels of cans were collected and brought in on hand sleds to preserve gasoline.

While pleased with the success of this initial drive, Mr. Corbett emphasized that the tin can collection job is just beginning. "If the carload of cans collected represents the accumulation of several months," said Mr. Corbett, "it is difficult to see how we can achieve our monthly quota of two pounds per person per month. This means approximately 42 tons for the entire county, which is several times what we got on this original pick-up."

Mr. Corbett urged every housewife to continue to save every can as if it were worth its weight in gold. As a matter of fact, tin is far more useful than gold to the war effort. Future collections are planned, probably at the rate of one a month.

Crew of Flying Fortress Is Anxious to Visit Nazi Capital

London, Jan. 21.—(P)—The crew of a Flying Fortress which destroyed three Nazi planes and absorbed terrific German punishment in the U. S. raid on Lorient declared today they were "ready for Berlin."

Capt. E. E. Tribbett of Thorn-ton, Ind., voiced the wish to bomb the German capital as he told of his crew's exploit over the French naval base, now Hitler's chief submarine lair on the Atlantic.

Tribbett's crew shot their way through a "swarm" of fighters and he pulled the ship safely out of a 7,000-foot dive caused by simultaneous cannon shell hits on both wings.

On the way home six enemy fighters, diving in pairs, attacked. Sgt. C. S. Johns of San Jose, Calif., shot down two but his oxygen mask and ammunition box caught fire from the heat of a bursting cannon shell in the tail turret.

The top turret gunner, Sgt. Oliver H. Moore, of New Brighton, Pa., shot down a third enemy fighter in flames.

It was just like shooting grouse only these so-and-soes shot back," he said.

During the running battle, Tribbett headed the Fortress directly into the attackers. Lieut. Julius Dorman of Philadelphia, the bombardier, paced through the ship administering first aid.

Reds Drive to Isolate
Axis in Caucasus

The Russians are battling to widen their supply corridor to Leningrad. Without a reference to specific gains or losses, the communique said that Axis shock troops "were successfully employed" in local combat on the central front and south of Lake Ilmen.

(The German command declared the Russians were repulsed during continuous violent assaults along southern sectors and had lost 52 armored cars during the 48-hour period this week. Trapped troops at Stalingrad were reported to have stood firmly against mass assaults.)

With a northern army reported 79 miles east of Kharkov, at Urazova, a southern force swept 17 miles westward to capture Byelokurakina, 115 miles northeast of Kharkov, a special Russian communique said last night.

These two troop bodies threatened to form the pincers to clamp on to Kharkov. The troops who had reached Byelokurakina, fifty miles inside the Ukrainian border, had accomplished actually the deepest penetration of the Ukraine republic since the Russians were forced to retreat in this region by the Germans' 1942 summer offensive.

The advance on Rostov from the Don valley and from the Caucasus found the Russian army firmly entrenched at Proletarskaya, the Soviet information bureau's bulletins said, marking the clearing of the entire region north of the Manych waterway.

The way was opened for the 23-mile drive along the railway against Salsk, an Axis supply center.

(The capture of Proletarskaya followed almost three days and nights of constant battle, according to the midday communique as recorded by the Soviet radio monitor in London.)

(The war bulletin told of the seizure of more towns on the southwest front and in the northern Caucasus, while on the Voronezh front a ring was reported tightened around an enemy division.)

(In one sector of the Voronezh front, the bulletin said, officers and men of a Hungarian battalion surrendered after prolonged fighting.)

In the lower Caucasus, the Russians claimed the recapture of Nevinnomysskaya, 200 miles southeast of Rostov but only 50 miles from the next key Caucasus stronghold of Armavir, gateway to Kropotkin and Krasnodar.

Little Chance Of Change in Ration Zones

The clergyman said. And if this is a tire-saving measure, as OPA says, they have to use tires to transport the gas into Ohio.

The Times-Mirror at Warren, Pa., reported motor fuel from that section now is moving eastward and northward to relieve shortages and that a continuation of this movement "would prevent any undue accumulation of gasoline" in Warren refineries.

Tin and steel are both reclaimed from your old tin cans. Contribute them to help beat the Axis.

35 Are Dead In Transport Plane Crash

The plane was flying south, having left this country about a week ago, George said, and all those aboard were on their way overseas, some probably going to North Africa.

The number of casualties in a single crash, George explained, was due to the great size of the plane.

Patrons who have followed the work of the Warren Camera Club in past years will be interested in a display of prints that has just been placed in the window of the Borg Studio in Times Square.

MUST UNDERGO INSPECTION
Attention of motorists is called to the fact that the inspection of motor cars as required by the Pennsylvania State Motor Code must be done before January 31st. Auto owners must not confuse this inspection with the tire inspection required under the gasoline ration plan.

ATTENDED CONFERENCE
Superintendent of Schools John G. Rossman was in Cory yesterday attending a conference of school heads of this vicinity. The meeting was held at the Hotel Cory and luncheon was enjoyed. Most of the schools in this section were represented and the discussion hinged on the program to be adopted to better fit the schools to prepare their students for the war time demands.

CONFERENCE SESSION
Rev. B. E. Coleman, of Franklin, superintendent of Johnstown District Evangelical churches, will be here Saturday evening to conduct the second quarterly conference in the First Evangelical church. The service will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Coleman will remain to preach and administer the Holy Communion at the 11 a. m. Sunday service in the same church.

TO AID FARMERS
Representative Thomas B. Wilson, of McKean county, has introduced a bill in the legislature that would change school laws for the duration to permit pupils to aid in the war effort during the manpower shortage. The measure would: Keep schools in session as long as necessary; close temporarily any or all schools when school board deems it advisable or by proclamation of the governor or superintendent of public instruction; grant farm and domestic employment permits to pupils who have reached the age of 14 years, and adjust the assignment and reassignment of teachers.

TO GIVE REVIEW
Mrs. D. O. May, wife of the minister, will present a review of the new Lloyd Douglas book, "The Robe," at the Sunday evening service of the Russell Methodist church and all are urged to hear her.

TO ADJUST ALLOTMENTS
Announcement was made at the Chamber of Commerce this morning that A. C. Eaker, examiner, of the Office of Defense Transportation, will spend next Monday and Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce for consultation regarding adjustments of gasoline allotments for operators of trucks and other commercial vehicles. Appointments may be made in advance by calling the Chamber Office 470.

ORCHESTRA TO PLAY
Harry A. Summers, school music instructor, has assembled an orchestra of young people to present at seven o'clock Sunday evening in the First Presbyterian church as a feature of the Church of Tomorrow service. Since the program opens with music by this group, starting promptly at seven and closing at 7:45, attendants are urged to be early. The subject for a brief address will be "That Chip on Your Shoulder." For the morning service in this church, Dr. H. C. Warren will preach on "The Mind of Christ."

COMING HOME TONIGHT
Arthur Covell, of Triumph, Warren county winner of a trip to see a Liberty Ship launched will be home this evening. The lad with two other school pupils of the state spent yesterday in Harrisburg and County Superintendent of Schools H. L. Blair was present at a meeting in the Penn Harris ball room when the children were brought in and introduced and the educators assembled were told of the work the children had done in the salvage drive. Mr. Blair spoke to young Covell and the lad said, "I am having a grand time and seeing a lot of things."

OF INTEREST
Warren county folk who have relatives in any of the branches of the U. S. Naval Service, will be interested in the following announcement made by the Navy today: Effective immediately all casualties of the navy, marine corps and coast guard would be announced in a daily list instead of in periodical accumulations as heretofore. The first daily list, containing the names of 14 men killed, 15 wounded and 43 missing, was made public yesterday. The navy will continue to follow the policy of notifying next of kin before making the names public.

Hens must have ample supplies of fresh water if they are to consume enough feed and lay well. One hundred laying hens will drink about five gallons or approximately 40 pounds of water daily. That means between 6 and 7 tons per year, explains County Agent Tritt.

CALVES NEED VITAMIN D TO STOP RICKETS ATTACK
Because of adverse weather during the hay curing season, a large amount of hay probably is so low in vitamin D that rickets will show up in calves under nine months in the form of arched or "roached" backs and lorned back of the shoulders. In some cases it may go so far as to cause enlarged joints and stiffness.

County Agent O. C. Tritt says that if this condition is not corrected by feeding additional vitamin D, the animals may be permanently weak in the loin, and low behind the withers. Animals low in vitamin D also grow more slowly and are not so thrifty as those which have an adequate amount of the vitamin.

The cheapest available form of commercial vitamin D now on the market is irradiated dry yeast. It comes in the form of a dry, fine powder and may be mixed in the growing grain at the rate of one pound per ton of grain. Because of the hay situation this year, calves should be fed the irradiated yeast up to nine months of age. Since most calf starters include the yeast, usually it is not necessary to add the irradiated yeast to a commercial calf starter.

EAST HICKORY

East Hickory, Jan. 11—The Community Ladies' Aid Society and the Carnation Club, have announced that owing to the transportation difficulties, and the rationing of the food products, no more meetings will be held till further notice.

The money gifts to the junior members of the Methodist Sunday school, by Mr. James A. Connolly of Ludlow, for certain attendance at the Sunday school sessions for the year has been much appreciated. They all wish to return thanks to him for his kindly interest in the church and Sunday school work of the "old home town."

The Willing Workers class of the Methodist Sunday school, held a round table meeting at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Scandrett, with Mrs. May Painter as leader. The meeting opened with singing, reading of the 146th Psalm, and prayer by Mrs. Painter. Miss Eva Mathia was elected as president, Miley Howe, vice president, Mrs. Joe Dudick, secretary and Mary Howe treasurer. The meetings will be held each Friday evening, and dues will be five cents a month. The program for the next meeting will be a violin solo by Mary Howe, poem, Mrs. Alberta Dudick, essay on the Life of Christ, Miley Howe, reading on the Life of Christ, Eva Mathia. These meetings will start at 7:30 and close at 9:00. Sunflower dish cloths have been ordered and will be sold, and all proceeds from their work will be used to buy a piano, which is one aim of the Round Table members. Those wishing to join please notify Mrs. Alberta Dudick.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent uric acid passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pen and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eye, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Mrs. Blanche Hoover of Cleveland who was called here by the illness and death of her nephew, Charles E. Crider, has spent several days in Ludlow with the Connelley family.

HOW TO GIVE A BOOK

Teachers, authors, editors have been telling us for years "How To Read A Book." Now the needs of our armed forces are teaching us "How To Give A Book" through the medium of the 1943 Victory Book Campaign.

The need of good books, more books, for our fighting men is well known, but often people wonder how and where to give their book donations. The answer is, take them to your nearest public library, for the libraries are the local depositories of the Victory Book Campaign, and their personnel is helping wholeheartedly in its work. All the books collected in any community are taken directly to the libraries and there sorted, packed and forwarded to the large distribution centers of the Campaign.

Book donations to the nearest local public library are encouraged, for this will save time and effort for those who transport the books. Library locations can be learned from the telephone directory or the local newspaper.

For those who cannot carry their books personally to the libraries, however, other means are available. In New York City, for example, Borden and Sheffield drivers are picking up bundles of books, along with the morning milk, and taking them to the nearest libraries. All over the country bakers, teamsters, department store drivers and others are combining book collections with their regular deliveries. In many communities patriotic youngsters are making door-to-door canvasses and wheeling their book accumulations in kiddie-cars and wagons to the libraries. Collection boxes placed in stores, theatres and other public places are filling up rapidly.

The business of giving books to our fighting forces is becoming a huge "Our Town" project everywhere. It's the sort of community effort in which everybody delights to take part. The local libraries are the key centers of this effort, and anyone who takes his books there personally helps just that much more to speed good books on their way to our men in the armed services.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

Return of draft supervision to the Army is being agitated. Chairman May of the House Military Affairs Committee says he would support such a change.

In considering any such proposal one fact should be kept in mind: Neither Mr. McNutt nor General Hershey has had any policy control as to the number of men to be conscripted or as to the classifications. Selective Service is purely administrative. The Army (and now the Navy) determines how many men are needed. Congress decides whence they shall come. Selective Service's job is routine.

Isn't this an argument for civilian administration, closely co-ordinated with the problems of industrial manpower?

PRaise FOR NURSE'S AIDES

Warren women are doing their bit in the war effort wholeheartedly and unstintingly. This fact was again demonstrated at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday when members of the second class of Red Cross Nurse's Aides were presented caps and pins. Of the class of 25 which enrolled in November, all finished excepting one who was compelled to drop out because of illness. One member, Romaine Peterson, served her 36 hours of class work, 44 hours on the floor and has already given more than 100 hours of actual service, dating since December 12. Incidentally, of the first group, known as the Pioneer Class, graduated in March, many already have given over their minimum requirement of 150 hours.

Gas stations should experience a little spurt tomorrow, the first day for using No. 4 coupon in the gasoline "A" book.

The Wall Street Journal reminds that "eating in wartime is costlier than it was during 1929." Or any other year ending in "9".

Keep saving those tin cans. There will be collection frequently throughout the duration.

Notice how much more daylight there is of an evening?

Speaking of scarcities, the birds are finding it pretty hard to subsist due to the lack of food

The War Will Have To Wait

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — It may not seem important now, but any one who remembers the junk-heaps of war material that piled up after the last war will realize how important it will be some day that the Department of Agriculture has proved that jeeps may become the all-purpose farm vehicles of tomorrow.

Before we got into this war, several Congressmen announced that some day they would introduce bills to sell surplus jeeps to the farmers at cost-plus-nothing. The idea was brushed off with a few snickers as a political gesture. However, it started some people thinking.

AS A result, research officials of the Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with one of the major automobile manufacturers which produces jeeps, have just completed field tests near Auburn, Ala., and Toledo, O.

It looks as if the "Army's miracle car" may become (with possibly slight modifications) the "farmer's miracle car" of peacetime.

In Alabama, the jeep pulled a 16-inch plow, a 7-inch furrow over an acre of cotton bottom land in an hour and three quarters on 232 gallons of gasoline.

In Ohio, where the all-purpose tests were made, the jeep hauled a 1,700-pound wagon, loaded with 4,500 pounds of corn, 13 miles and returned unloaded on one gallon of gasoline.

The jeep has proved itself also a satisfactory farm power unit to operate machinery for milking cows, clearing land, sawing wood, etc.

FAST, rough-riding, powerful, the jeep power plant develops 60 horsepower at 3,600 r.p.m. It has a highly developed cooling system and the engine is "insulated" against mud and dust by what officials call a "special duty heavy oil bath air cleaner."

It has four-wheel drive and the standard gear lever operation but two additional gear levers. One provides a "low-low" on the four-wheel drive. The other is a "high-high" that shifts to rear-wheel drive for top speeds on the open road. It has the "finger-tip" steering wheel control of modern passenger cars.

Right now, it's getting field tests under observation of army engineers on the frozen steppes of Russia and the tundras of Iceland; on the sands of Libya and in the mud of Tunisia; and in the matted jungles and swamps of the Solomon and New Guinea.

If there still are any "bugs" left in it, there shouldn't be by the time these members of Congress get around to turning them over to the army of peacetime farmers.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — When America's housekeepers are in the throes of figuring out the rationing system, trying to put three and two together to add up to a meal, they may take some comfort from looking upon the plight of Hollywood, which already has to plan its rations months in advance.

Hollywood is already sore beset by shortages—in raw film stock, in cold cream, in wigs, in leading men gone to war. And it's becoming more of a problem what to feed the players who are left—what to feed them, that is, in front of the camera.

What Hollywood needs for this task is a combination prophet-chef-diplomat: the prophet to foretell what foods will be plentiful at the time the picture is released, the chef to take what is plentiful at present and make it look festive, the diplomat to travel with the film and explain to rationed audiences that it isn't so, that those lamb chops are just ersatz from the plaster shops and Hollywood isn't eating better than anybody else.

AUDIENCEs are likely to be more critical of viands on the screen as their pockets bulge with more ration cards. The diplomat could interrupt the screening long enough to soothe the customers. "Ladies and gentlemen," he could say, "your attention one moment, please! That luscious roast Mr. Pidgeon is carving—let me assure you it is but colored putty, so artistically devised that it had Mr. Pidgeon drooling!"

On the other hand, there is a school of food thought here that insists it would be sheer cruelty for Mr. Pidgeon or any other actor to carve even a simulated roast when meat is scarce.

There are some, even more conservative, who believe the screen should give up eating scenes for the duration—glossing over such lapses when necessary by scenes showing hero and heroine at the kitchen sink washing the dishes, or waiters removing their empty plates after the fact.

A MEAL served to Mary Martin, Dick Powell and Victor Moore in "True to Life" had a lovely ersatz air about it. If their gustatory reactions seem convincing, it's sheer acting. But the studio has gone to work on a permanent supply of plaster roasts, steaks and chops, all tough enough to serve for the duration, and varied enough so that audiences won't see the same cuts in film after film and start writing fan letters to the meat instead of to the stars.

This will be all very well but there again you run into the need—less cruelty angle. Ever notice smokers fidget when actors light up on the screen? Ever see the look in the eye of a man hungry for red meat?

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

IN 1923

Yesterday a big flock of wild geese flew over Sheffield and some of the weather sharks are predicting that warm weather cannot be so far off with the harbingers of spring honking their way northward.

Two new wells were brought in yesterday in the Tidoute field and both of them are said to be light producers.

A huge pump of 750 gallons per minute is to be installed at the new sand and gravel plant at Star Brick. It will be one of the biggest pumps in this section and will be used to pump water to wash gravel at the plant.

Mac Olney has announced himself as a candidate for the office of county commissioner in the Democratic primaries of September, 1923.

The Porkey orchestra got together last night and the weather was too cold for the ladies and the violins. However, by some doubling up a good program of music was given. The weatherman just played hobb with the music class.

IN 1933

Men are at work on Church street at Youngsville. The street will be filled with crushed stone and a top dressing placed upon it. Several streets in the borough have been improved.

Over 100 persons representing over 72 churches met in Meadville yesterday. Rev. Thomas Dickson and Harold Banghart were present from Warren.

Beyer Africa and Delbert Jolly have been appointed on the committee for the Frosh-All College dance to be held at Allegheny College in Meadville.

The 13th anniversary of national prohibition was observed here yesterday in the United Brethren church. Mrs. Mabel Dallas spoke and Dr. H. G. Hoyer spoke of a recent trip to Washington. He told of the drunken brawls and fights he saw among the bootleggers and repeal, emphasizing the type of people that want liquor back.

The state forest department has taken over the road to Klondike from Kinzua and a group of men are now cutting brush along the road. In the spring machinery will be used to build a new road.

The jeep has a short wheelbase—only 80 inches.

Women Can Enroll Soon In WAACS

Warren women will have an opportunity to enroll in the WAACS on January 27 when a recruiting officer and a member of the WAACS will be at the Elks Club in this city. The Elks are in communication with the recruiting office and are doing all possible so that Warren girls and women may have an opportunity to enter this service.

The WAACS give women a real opportunity for excellent training and enrollment in the WAACS is open to any woman who has passed her 21st birthday and has not yet reached her 45th birthday.

You do need to be a high-school graduate, as some prospective applicants seem to believe, as there are no particular educational requirements, except that you must pass a comparatively simple mental test, more of which will be mentioned below.

You also do not have to be perfect physically. Many who feel they would be disqualified by reason of several missing teeth, having to wear glasses because of near-sightedness, being overweight or underweight, etc. are pleasantly surprised that they can meet the physical requirements. Let the army doctor be the judge of your physical condition.

Married women are welcomed to apply, provided they do not have dependents and do not have young children. In fact anyone having dependents, either married or single, is not encouraged to apply because it is against the policy of the WAAC to consider anyone so encumbered.

You need not be hesitant about applying if you have no particular skill in any one line of work, such as stenography, bookkeeping, cooking, etc., since you will be interviewed when you get to the training center, classified, and trained in that line for which you are best fitted. We have enrolled many housewives and younger single girls who have never been gainfully employed and have had no particular skill in any one line of endeavor. On the other hand we have sent to training centers many highly educated and skilled persons—high school and college teachers, pharmacists, laboratory technicians, etc.

Warren Lodge of Elks has done a great work during the war in the assisting of many young men to find places as air cadets and have contributed the use of their clubhouse once before for recruiting purposes of the WAACS. Feeling that Warren and vicinity should have many red blooded women who desire to aid their country the Erie Recruiting station has arranged with the Warren lodge for the visit on Wednesday, January 27. At this time all women interested are asked to call at the Elks and interview the officers who will be there all day.

Red Cross Is Seeking Aid In Teaching

The home nursing committee of the local Red Cross is again appealing for instructors for classes in this subject and issues the following statement and plea:

Because of the present emergency the Red Cross is intensifying its effort to reach every home with nursing instruction and the slogan of the national home nursing committee is "A Home Nursing Student in Every Home".

Increasing interest in these classes makes it necessary to have

OPA Gives Details On Food Rationing To Start Next Month

Announced by Kenneth E. Stauffer of the Office of Price Administration's Processed Food Division, are some of the details of the general food rationing program, which will begin early in February.

The following foods, constituting more than 200 grocery items, will be rationed immediately when the program begins:

CANNED—Fruits, vegetables, all soups, juices, baby foods.

BOTTLED—Juices, soups, cat-sup, chili sauce.

FROZEN—Fruits, vegetables.

DRIED—Fruits.

IN JARS—Fruits, vegetables, soups, juices.

Meat will be rationed later. Sugar and coffee, of course, already are rationed.

Under the program a consumer will be permitted to shop in any grocery. He may buy expensive or inexpensive brands of food. The number of items he may buy will be limited, however. If he buys high point-value items he will get fewer cans than if he buys low point-value items. He will have to learn to budget his ration points as well as his money.

Before rationing begins the sale of canned goods and other items to be rationed will be frozen for a week. Sometime during this week every consumer will have to register for Ration Book No. 2. Registration is expected to be held again in schools.

Each consumer should be prepared for registration in three ways:

1—He must have with him and show all No. 1 ration books of his family.

2—He must know how many commercially canned or otherwise preserved foods he has at home.

3—He must be able to say how much coffee he had at home as of November, 1942.

The consumer will continue to use Ration Book No. 1 for buying coffee and sugar.

At the registration site, the consumer will be given one Ration Book No. 2 for each member of the family, regardless of age.

Ration Book 2 has two sets of stamps, one red and the other blue. The red stamps are for meat, the blue stamps for canned foods. Since meat will not be rationed immediately, the blue stamps will be used first.

Each stamp has both a letter and a number on it. The letter shows when that stamp may be used. The number shows its value.

The letters run from A through Z, except for the letters I and O which are omitted. Each letter appears on four stamps. Thus, there are four A stamps, four B stamps and so on. In all, there are 96 blue stamps in Ration Book No. 2.

The stamps will be used in three letter groups. That is, stamps with A, B and C on them will be used during the first ration period. Then stamps with D, E and F will be used during the second ration period and so on. The length of each ration period will be announced by the OPA.

Since each letter appears on four stamps and since three letters may be used, a total of 12 stamps may be spent during each ration period. One of the four stamps under each letter has a figure 8, one has a 5, and one has a 2 and one has a 1. Thus, with three letters in each ration period, the consumer will have three 8-point stamps, three 5's, three 2's and three 1's. This is a total of 48 points per more instructors. If you are a graduate nurse, retired or active, and will volunteer your services to teach a class in home nursing, please register at once at Red Cross headquarters, 404 Market street, telephone 2926.

THE WAR AT HOME... Hiring Hall

"We deliver the goods!" That's the proud slogan of the merchant seamen. Bombed and torpedoed into icy northern waters or oil-flaming seas, they still turn up again at the hiring halls to sign on another ship. NEA Staff Artist Carol Johnson sketched these typical scenes at a National Maritime Union hiring hall. There's gossip and chatter, or just reading, while the seamen wait for the loudspeakers to announce a demand for their specialized skills. And everywhere there's the constant reminder that "The enemy is listening."

ration period per consumer. During the week sales are frozen, the OPA will announce the point value of the various rationed items. Abundant foods will be assigned lesser value in points. Farmer Folk Given Splendid Programs at Meet Wednesday

With an attendance of over 100 interested persons the 28th annual meeting of the Warren County Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Association was held here yesterday. It was undoubtedly one of the best meetings that has ever been held and the interest in all phases of the work discussed was excellent.

The morning session opened at 10:30 with the president, Stanley Laurence, presiding. Reports were presented on the various projects and most of the reports contained much of interest and worth. The following reports were presented:

Ladina Clover-Orchard grass—F. P. McCullough, Warren.
4-H Home Economics Clubs of 1942—Mrs. W. G. Lyon, leader.
D. H. I. A.—Frank Dodd, Columbus.
4-H Breakfast Club—Mrs. Nelson Crooks, Corydon.
Tuber Unit Work—Charles Camp, Garland.
4-H Club Activities—Mrs. Paul Nelson, Sugar Grove.
Bull Association—Arnell Carter, Bear Lake.
4-H Room Improvement—Mrs. Floyd Swanson, Tidoute.
4-H Pig Club—John Nordine, Warren.
Potato Variety—John Johnson, Lottsville.
Rye Grass—W. C. Leofsky, Garland.

TIDIOUTE

Tidoute, Jan. 19—Tidoute P. T. A. held its regular meeting at the school auditorium Tuesday evening. The guest speaker was Rev. H. Satterlund. The entertainment was in charge of Room 3.

Mrs. Hugh McGraw was hostess to the members of Miss Ida Higgins' Sunday school class last Friday evening. After a brief business meeting a social time was enjoyed.

The A. C. H. class of the Methodist church was entertained at the home of Mrs. G. Pickersgill Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Emmerson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon at the community house. They received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mrs. Lyle Briggs will leave on Wednesday for Washington, D. C. to visit her daughter, Mrs. Durham.

Pfc. Robert L. Merkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Merkle, arrived in Tidoute for a week's furlough. He is stationed at Hill Field Barracks, Ogden, Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. Rue Lynch, of Titusville, spent Sunday and Monday in their home in Tidoute.

Edward Kernick, employed in Sharon, spent the weekend with his wife.

Mrs. Chester Hull, of Haggetts-town, N. J., was a recent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. G. Thompson and Miss Blanche McCally.

Miss Leah Crawford and Miss Lorraine Merkle were Monday visitors in Titusville.

Mrs. George Clinger spent a few days of last week in Buffalo.

Mrs. R. L. Dunn returned home from Slippery Rock, where she visited her father, Mr. Peters.

Mrs. F. E. Kapp will start her Bible class Friday evening at her home.

Miss Mildred Donaldson is leaving Monday, January 25, for Cochran, Pa., where she has accepted a position as teacher of English in the Cochran high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Strickland announced the engagement of their daughter, Renee, to Robert W. Kapp, of Tidoute, at a dinner party at Bay Head, N. J.

Miss Emma Allen returned to her teaching duties at Spring Creek after being confined to her home for the past week.

John F. Shields, of El Reno, Oklahoma, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shields, left for Fort Niagara Monday, where he will be inducted into the army.

Officers of the association were re-elected and the following will continue to hold their places: Stanley Laurence, president, Warren; vice president, Lloyd Wilcox, Akeley; second vice president, Ira Johnson, Sugar Grove; third vice president, Arnell Carter, Bear Lake; secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Price, Bear Lake; treasurer, Homer Mead, Warren.

Following the morning session lunch was served at the Y. M. C. A. At this affair the Kiwanis Club also participated and presented a program for the pleasure of the association members. The lunch menu was highly pleasing and following the dining H. W. Ledebur, acting president of the Kiwanians, took charge of the program. Mr. Ledebur extended greetings to the association members and then introduced Miss Anna Kahl, of the High School faculty, who delighted the audience with several readings. They were done with consummate skill and the attention of the gathering was held in a manner which was a compliment to Miss Kahl's ability.

Upon the resumption of the afternoon session Miss Lydia Tarrant, of State College, a nutrition specialist, gave a thoroughly enlightening talk on Nutrition. With charts she illustrated the calories, proteins, etc., in a diet and on another chart she presented the balancing of the diet and finally removed the charts milk as a feature of the diet. The deficiency which loomed with the removal of the milk pointedly showed the reason why a quart of milk per person is urged in all balanced diets. Her talk was received with much applause and was given close attention.

W. B. Nissley, vegetable gardening specialist of State College, followed with a talk on the 1943 Victory Garden Campaign. One big thought left with his auditors was that any time, any year, any good garden is a Victory Garden.

W. R. Gordon, rural sociology specialist of State College, spoke on "The Neighborhood Extension Leaders: Job, What and How." Mr. Gordon in his remarks pointed out the work that can now be done in the war program by extension leaders. How they can aid in the promulgation of the various programs allotted to the farmer and his family; how they can spread information received and thus provide impetus to the winning of the war. He also gave the listeners a wholly new idea in that they can also play a big part in the post war movement in the rebuilding of the nation after peace comes.

O. C. Tritt, county extension agent, and his workers were greatly pleased with the success of the meeting and the excellent work done by the group selected as speakers.

Eaton Will Introduce "Y" Speaker Here

One of the local admirers of William Hazlett Eaton, Attorney E. H. Eaton, will introduce him tonight when the humorist and short-story writer appears before the Y. M. C. A. lecture-forum audience at the Woman's Club auditorium this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Mr. Eaton is one of the host of people who have enjoyed Mr. Eaton's "Alexander's Weekly" in the Saturday Evening Post series.

It is not necessary that one hold a series ticket to participate in the forum with Mr. Eaton tonight. One-night tickets can be secured at the entrance to the auditorium beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The author and lecturer who hold this No. 2 spot on the 4-evening series is a specialist on the subject of mechanized warfare equipment, including tanks, jeeps and jeeps, and he tells about these marvels of fighting equipment in a way which fascinates all hearers. His announced topic is "The Gasoline Cavalry."

The "Y" committee promises an important announcement tonight regarding the fourth event of the series scheduled for March.

PENNEY'S
SOME CAN SEW . . .
AND SOME CAN NOT

Some women have a knack for sewing and think nothing of running up a batch of new clothes.

Some lack this skill . . . they haven't thought about making their own things. But they can learn — home dressmaking is a part of thrifty living, and it is everyone's duty to be thrifty these days. And one of the most delightful forms of thrift is to plan and make one's own clothes.

You will be tempted to start when you see our fascinating array of fabrics — and once successful in making something becoming and wearable, nothing will stop you! Try it — Sew and Save!

HOW TO PREPARE TIN CANS FOR COLLECTION

1 After emptying contents, wash the can thoroughly.

2 Cut off bottom, as well as top of can, or cut open, so that can may be flattened.

3 Step heavily on can to flatten — but do not flatten by hammering. Now tear off paper label, which is loosened by flattening. Labels printed on can need not be removed.

Rent Offices Loper Urges Change in Law May Soon Be In Marriage License Issuance Consolidated

Word has been received from the New York Regional Office of O. P. A. that certain recommendations made by Bruce S. Knabenshue, Area Rent Director, relative to changes in the local Rent Office, have been tentatively accepted subject to final approval from Washington.

Mr. Knabenshue has suggested that the Warren Office be consolidated with either the Erie or Jamestown Rent Offices and that it be operated as a branch. This will allow a considerable reduction in the staff and the elimination of his own position, that of Director, which he originally accepted with this understanding.

While it probably will be some little time before this consolidation can be effected it is advisable that landlords and tenants arrange to clean up all rent and tenancy problems immediately while it is still possible to get official action here in Warren. Anyone knowing of a rented dwelling or a room not yet registered should notify the Rent Office, Warren Bank and Trust Building, Phone 1990. Any change of tenancy since registration should also be registered with the Rent Office. Later on such duties might require both travel to a central office. The latter might be especially embarrassing under existing restrictions on travel by automobile.

By this time every tenant should have received his copy of the registration of his dwelling, or rooms, if any tenant has not so received his copy the Rent Office should be notified immediately. Incidentally, there seems to be some misunderstanding regarding rooms rented to boarders. Such rooms must be registered.

Fire Alarm Purchase Is Now Sought

During the storm Tuesday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Culbertson was discovered to be on fire. A fire in a partition was soon controlled by water and damage to the house by water was more than by fire.

Fortunately, it was discovered before it broke through to the outside of the house as it would have been impossible to have controlled it in the storm.

Many people here cannot hear the fire alarm of the church bells. The air raid wardens have been busy canvassing the town for funds with which to purchase a siren that will be placed near the telephone office that can be used for both air raid alarm and fire. It is to be hoped that the siren can soon be purchased. Many did not hear the air raid alarm sounded last week as the bell on the Episcopal church was covered by ice and could not be used and the bell on the Methodist church which was used does not ring loud enough to be heard at any distance.

Schools Plan Training For War Effort

County Superintendent of Schools H. L. Blair returned home this morning from Harrisburg, where he has been attending a meeting which was held in preparation for the 16 area conferences and more than 1000 local conferences planned to adjust public schools to the war effort. The area conferences will begin January 25 at State Teachers Colleges and in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. The local conferences will be held later.

Educators attending the conference yesterday heard Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, declare the aim of education is to remain "our first line of national defense and democratic security whether in peace or in war."

He listed these wartime problems facing educators:

1. Supplying trained man and woman power to replace workers gone to war.
2. Training of teen age boys directly for technical war occupation in preparation for their entrance into the armed forces.
3. Making high school students "better warriors and workers."
4. Preparing students for the civilian occupations in which there is a shortage of workers.

Fuel Needs At All-Time HIGH

War-time production has expanded the nation's coal needs to the all-time high of 600,000,000 tons for 1943: coke to 75,500,000 tons; anthracite to 65,000,000 tons, according to government surveys.

False Teeth

That Looser Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. (adv.)

SAVE THAT FISH!

The Department of Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service urges all fishermen to see that their entire catch is used for food, that none is wasted due to extreme food needs under present wartime conditions.

Covering The Sports Front

"BOB" JOHNSON

Crossing their fingers and hoping for some sort of a break to get them through another season of golf, the local niblick-swingers are not one in their wishes, as ideas pop up from every section of the country what to do in the case of the ban sticks. Some of the clubs are favoring a horse-driven idea of getting to their favorite haunts for a week-end of the cussing-sport ever developed. This can be practical in some sense of the word, but the average devotee needs more than two days a week to keep himself on a safe side of a nervous prostration and those late savings-time days of work hours are what the hopes center around now. How to do it? Don't look to us for ideas, although we'd give the leg to hatch a good one ourselves. A great many take a look at the big-time question and read no further, discarding it as silly stuff who the heck wants to play golf, anyway? But confronting today's host of business men, shop workers and persons from every walk of life, this question ranks higher than baseball, football and the rest, to the fact that recreation for these millions will be a tough one to list come summer, and those participating don't want to sit around after work with nothing to do but grow old. No arguments on the subject? Dig a victory garden? Okay, but the area doesn't receive recognition for the three tree-to-do-what-I-want-with-tickets by summer, what the household budget will include along with war bonds for the hot months will be broken, chances, windows, and a few divorce cases to top it off. Anyway, the wins round one on those empty Saturday and Sunday afternoons '43. Two of Warren's better athletes are home on leave from the Navy and will take a radio training course on return. Cliff Graham is one of the best guards Warren High has ever turned out.ightly built, he turned in many good accounts for himself in '40 and '41. Milt Dahler, a mainstay of the State Hospital team and a good baseman of the best caliber J. B. Leidig of the High school ever. is along with him and they have been together for all of their training. Jamestown only beat the Falconer team, which they sh with Friday, by five points, and we know Jamestown is plenty good. First time we ever knew special sticks are used for each player in a hockey game—numbered five-woods and so forth. The only difference is you can't slice or hook with them. One of the first things you heard at the start of the rationing periods 'way last summer was the ban on golf balls, and they started to curtail them right away. Now they start selling them at different stores in the section. Where did they come from? Uh-huh.

PENN BOWLING CENTER

Foreman B. of the Struthers-Wells League stole all the honors of the evening's bowling on their three point win over the Boring Mills, their only loss resulted in the last game by one in. Paul Cappola's 235-214—633 led the team to their win and high scoring for the evening on team games of 914 and 2520 total.

Foreman A came through with a four point win over the Heater's on Wooster's 222-585 to increase their lead over the Plate Floor as they were winning three points from Machine Shop on Clark's 221-545. Gelotte's 215-531 led the Machine Shop.

X-Ray's very consistent bowling gave them a three point win over the Engineers. Yarzabek's 231-562 led both teams in scoring.

The evening's honors went to Paul Cappola on his 235 single and 633 total. Yarzabek also turned in a 231 single game. Foreman B's 914 and 2520 took team honors.

AT ELKS

The Elks league keglers took a day off Wednesday and satisfied themselves with only one game in the 900's, and this one rolled by Soda Mineral just cleared the mark at 911, after the scorching the lanes have been used to for the past week. The Soda Mineral rolled off two other small games in the 700 slots to take three points from Irwins who rolled even smaller. Lewis Market led Myron Check's 632 and 223 game to top it off, while the remainder of his team backed him with 2505. Honor roll scores were frequent but all except Check fell below par in the other two games. Honor Roll: E. Lynch 238, D. Zibbe 202, C. Hoffman 207, M. Biehn 220, H. Shields 200 and Check's 225. AT ARCADE

The kids of the junior circuit made the oldsters stand up and take notice as usual last night again, and kept hitting high games to the envy of some of the men in local leagues for years. The Blue and White nailed four straight from the Walker outfit, although R. Brown slammed out 533 for the creamery unit. The restaurants couldn't offer anything more than 484 by Pete Miller. George's kept ahead in their league lead on the other slides with a three-point win from the United Cigar team, with Cal Iawson hitting 556, including a 213 game, while the United had little Bobby Hedberg pitching 551 for the losers.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—The Hale America Open Golf Tournament, successor last year to the war shelved national open, in turn may be succeeded this year—but perhaps in name only. The Chicago District Golf Association said today it planned an open tournament, national in scope and with proceeds going to some war relief agency, but indicated that the event probably would be identified by a name other than Hale America.

Holdout Problems Expected to Succumb To Week Delay in the Start of Major League Games

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR
New York, Jan. 21.—(P)—Everything is being set back a week in the coming major league baseball season—including the opening, the close and the all-star game—and even the "holdout" campaign, which precedes each pennant fight, may be in for an enforced delay.

This was indicated yesterday when President William Harridge of the American League met with President Ford Frick of the National loop to complete the schedule adjustments brought about by wartime necessity.

Harridge disclosed that all clubs in his circuit had been asked to hold up player contracts until the director of economic stabilization rules whether baseball comes under the salary freezing order. Frick said National League Clubs were withholding contracts for the same reason, with the exception of the New York Giants, who are proceeding under a regional ruling.

Baseball's advisory council, headed by Commissioner K. M. Landis, has asked the national ruling on the matter of salaries, and players won't receive their contracts until it is made. Thus, no player can start his annual spring "holdout" for more money until he finds out how much he's being offered in the first place.

The 1943 season, the league presidents agreed, will open on Wednesday, April 21, and close Sunday, Oct. 3. The annual all-star game will be played Tuesday, July 13, at Shibe Park in Philadelphia, with the Athletics of the American League as sponsors.

Since the Washington Senators open on the road, they will be hosts to the Philadelphia Athletics in a preliminary game, April 20, under a time-honored agreement of having a special opening game at the nation's capital every other year.

Here is the schedule for the April 21 opening:

American League—Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia, Chicago at St. Louis, Detroit at Cleveland, National League—New York at Brooklyn, Philadelphia at Boston, St. Louis at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at Chicago.

WILMINGTON TEAM FINDS CUP AT LAST

Harrisburg, Jan. 21.—(P)—That silver cup the champion Wilmington, Del., Blue Rocks of the Interstate Baseball League, has been hunting since the season's close last September has been located, but it's still going to cost them two dollars to get it.

Tom Shriever, Harrisburg Telegraph sports editor, uncovered the trophy this week at a cafe where it has been on display for three weeks.

Object of a wide search, the cup had been mislaid since it was earned but never received by the Wilmington club.

The cup had been won by the Harrisburg Senators in 1941, but when time came to turn it over to Wilmington last year it could not be found. It was presented to the circuit by former Governor Hoffman of New Jersey several years ago.

Embarrassed Harrisburg club officials searched while the Delaware team asked about the cup. One report was that it had been donated to the scrap drive.

The search for the cup had been almost given up when Schriever spotted it in the cafe.

"Where did you get the cup?" he asked Johnny Kobler, the proprietor.

"I bought it from a man for two dollars," Kobler explained. Schriever suggested that he turn it over to Wilmington, but Kobler said he wants his two dollars first.

So the next move is up to Eddie Glennon, Wilmington's business manager. The cup has been found but where it has been is still a mystery.

fielder, of which the Cubs feel they have none to spare.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—Chicago's Maroon basketball team, beaten in 34 consecutive big ten games, can take heart from this item:

Little Good Hope (Ill) high school lost 48 games in a row before finally breaking the string Tuesday night in the first game of its county tournament. But Good Hope was back in the groove last night, Macomb Academy won, 49-13.

Chapter 28 Carmencita Begs

MARY's first feeling was of panic. But for the fact that her muscles seemed paralyzed, she'd have crashed panic-stricken through the forest of thick brush in her desperate desire to get away from that sinister brown face.

But before her impulse could command her body into action, a fierce anger overtook her. That he dared—this alien brown man—to come into her country a ruthless enemy, a sneaking, hiding menace.

How dared he! As she watched him busy with dials on the big control board, ear-phones clamped about his head, she realized that undoubtedly here was the source of the enemy's power to sabotage, to shell, to attempt to terrorize Santa Philips.

Because this man sent the signals, submarines could sink close enough to shell important gasoline storage tanks. Because this man radioed directions, high-flying airplanes could drop parachutists before they crashed suicidally into remote mountain fastnesses.

This man! The enemy! Conscious now that her whole slim body was tense with anger, that she pressed forward recklessly, trying to hear what the man was saying, Mary was suddenly aware of Standing Bear's hand on her arm.

Turning, she saw the anxiety written on his lined, weather-beaten old face. Never before had she seen the stoic Indian express fear. For a moment, she almost relented, acceded to his urgent gesturing that beseeched her to hurry away. Then she shook her head.

That Carmencita was here, she wanted to be very sure before she went racing back to Headquarters with this story that would sound wild and impossible anyway. Unless she actually was witness to—

She turned back to the tiny window, and her heart stopped still. The ugly, cruel face of the man at the radio loomed straight at her.

For minutes, Mary felt sure he saw her. But the man turned away finally, apparently unaware of his observers. Mary let her breath go then and blessed the fact that her dun colored riding clothes must have blended with the natural colors around her.

American Uniforms

STANDING Bear tugged at her arm, more urgently this time. Still she shook her head. Just one minute more. Someone had come into the room into which she peered so anxiously. The man at the radio had turned again, his back to the window now.

He was saying something, Mary heard the murmur of his voice, could make nothing of what he said. A tall, very blond man came within range, now. A second man, tall and just as blond, stood at

Chapter 27 Radio Station

WHEN, a moment later, she discovered the faint foot path scaling the steep bank, Mary hesitated no longer.

"Come on," she called over her shoulder to the old Indian who still muttered, grumbled discouragingly.

She had to see where this went. Up, mostly, she panted as she scrambled up over the rocks, caught at low shrubs to help pull herself along. The mountains here ascended precipitously. Mary knew that a little farther up the canyon there was a lovely little falls. She and Porter used to wade up stream to picnic there. But she'd never been above the falls.

But lately someone hadn't found it inaccessible, she thought as she stopped a moment to catch her breath.

Standing Bear, silent footed in his moccasins, overtook her. "No good to go on up here," he shook his head. "Better come back now."

"How do you know? Ever been up here before?" Mary demanded. He nodded. "Many times. Just big mountain. No good hunting. Too steep."

No good deer hunting, maybe, Mary amended silently. But if you were hunting for a girl with a blue-eyed grin—

Mary climbed on. Not that she knew what she would do if she found them! Not that she could explain the drive that urged her on and on. That she was inviting danger was obvious. That every step brought her nearer to whoever was hidden up here was obvious. Because people didn't hide cars just for fun!

Still she pushed along. They'd passed the falls now and, to her amazement, Mary discovered that up and beyond was a higher falls. And between spread a narrow mountain valley. A pocket really in the towering granite crags that almost encircled it. Save for the narrow cleft where the stream had cut its way, the valley was completely inaccessible.

What a splendid hideaway! One could live here almost indefinitely without being discovered, probably. The lush grass showed the soil was fertile. Up this high there would be water all year around.

As her conscious mind noted these details, she became increasingly aware of a feeling that she was being watched.

"It seems strange that the trail would be so well-worn when there is nothing up here," she thought aloud.

The old Indian grunted, walked on past her down the wide trail a few steps. Then he beckoned to her.

"Somebody here, all right," he pointed to fresh marks in the dirt. "Three-four man. One woman."

But Only One Woman

MARY saw them, too. Now that they were into the little valley, the trail was no longer of smooth granite. Here in the deep loam the footprints were easily discerned. She saw the small mark of Carmencita's high-heeled slippers herself. At least she supposed it was Carmencita's. And the broader, heavier imprints of a man's boots.

"How do you know it's more than one man, Standing Bear?" she asked immediately.

"House over there," he pointed to what looked to Mary like an impenetrable clump of dwarfed pines. "Build'em log house. See."

Now he pointed to two newly-made tree stumps.

"Could we get close enough to see—without being seen?"

The Indian shook his head in violent protest, now. His old eyes were sharp with fear. "No go there. Come back now."

"Why Standing Bear? I believe you are afraid," she said astonished. Never, since she could remember, had she ever seen fear in the man's face. He'd been known to get an enraged grizzly single-handed. He'd faced mountain lions. He'd been caught in earth-shaking storms. Mary'd never heard of his being anything but completely competent.

"What's the matter with you?" "Devils in that house. Evil spirits. Witch man makes talk. Spirits make talk. Sometimes evil spirits get mad. Then blue sky fire."

Alarmed, Mary tried to translate the Indian's jumbled story. "What do you mean 'spirits make talk'?"

"Out of a box. Small, like this. One side empty. Talk comes there."

"A radio, you mean?" The old man scratched his head. "No radio—no noises like Father Francis' box. Talk."

Mary began to understand. A radio that wasn't picking up music programs like the ones the old priest loved dearly. A radio that talked. A radio! Here in the heart of this vast mountainside!

"Come on. Show me." Obviously reluctant, the old Indian finally struck out off the trail, circled about the rim of the valley, keeping well to the cover of stunted pines and thick brush. For what seemed an agonizingly slow trip, Mary plodded after him.

He seemed to know just what stones would roll, what twigs would snap and crackle. Mary hit them all, felt sure she was as noisy as a herd of bison.

Still, a moment later when the tiny log hut was plainly visible, they seemed not to have attracted any attention from its occupants! If there were any.

In The Hut FOR much longer than Mary's patience lasted, Standing Bear insisted they stand motionless, watching the cabin. When she would have moved, spoken, he grunted, silenced her with a gesture.

Finally, when nothing happened, when there was still no sign of life in the hut, they moved forward. Slowly, carefully, still keeping to cover. And that was easy enough. The house had been set so cleverly into this one deep thicket that, except from fifty yards, it would go completely unnoticed. Mary must remember to ask Standing Bear later how he'd happened to find it.

On the side where a tree pressed close to the rough wall of the cabin, there was a tiny window. After a long, painfully slow process of circling the cabin, approaching it noiselessly, Standing Bear finally permitted Mary to get close enough to see into the window.

The room was dimly lighted, she saw at once, by a battery of tubes and small lighted dials on a giant control board. Plainly discernible now was the face of a man wearing ear-phones who sat before that board. As she stared, Mary's heart leapt to her throat, pounding violently. Her breathing stopped for the endless moment in which her senses assured her that she was not dreaming. A radio sending station—and the man at the controls had the unmistakable features of a Japanese.

Sportsmen In Appeal To Get Guns for Army

(By Seth L. Myers)

A letter from Captain William Rial of the War Department gives this column a welcome opportunity to be of worth while service in the war effort. (Authorized for public information). The letter concerns the late newspaper releases from the War Department on the purchase of 12 gauge shotguns from sportsmen who are willing to part with their guns. It is a chance for all of us who own a gun of the type desired by the army, to make a sacrifice to help beat the axis. There will be no financial sacrifice however, as a fair price will be paid for all guns purchased, and guns are not to be sent until so requested. If you have a 12 gauge pump, automatic or double which you care to offer just mail a card describing the gun, at once. Address, Small Arms Branch, Ordnance Department, War Office, 1202 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa. and an answer will come back by return mail. Due to the urgency of the request, cards received after Saturday of this week will not be considered, so we ask all to sit right down at once and write their card if they have a gun to offer.

What finer salute to our new Governor could the sportsmen of Pennsylvania present, than to sacrifice their shotguns for such an urgent need in the time of war. This is of course by no means any form of compulsory program, and not asked by the state government, but it is most certain that a good showing will help to make General Martin proud to be Governor of Pennsylvania's sportsmen. It is with deep regret among the sportsmen of the state that the new Governor takes office with the present upheaval within the game commission. We are confident however, that his honor is well aware of who the trouble makers are and will soon silence their unwelcome noise.

The Northwest Division of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, voted unanimously last Sunday to offer their best support and cooperation to the new governor, and he was so advised.

Peaceful Palms on Guadalcanal

There's no hint of war in this beach scene on Guadalcanal, peaceful as a movie travelog's finish, but behind the silvery palms is a Marine observation post where sharp watch is kept for enemy movements.

SHEFFIELD NEWS

Sheffield, Jan. 19. Twenty-five members and a guest of the Progressive Woman's Club were present Monday evening at the home of Miss Lucille Baynes. A committee has been appointed to select a number of books to be given to the soldiers.

Miss Gertrude Calkins conducted a news quiz. Mrs. Marie Christian had prepared a paper on "War Heroes" and this was given by Mrs. Stephen Greenwood.

The club will sponsor a tea, February 13th, at the home of Mrs. Robert Dunn, Church street. Mrs. Paul Johnson will be hostess for the next meeting February 1st.

The meeting was concluded with refreshments served by the hostess and co-hostess, Miss Bertha Nelson.

The primary pupils of the Lincoln School were amazed Monday afternoon when glancing out the windows to see a deer playing in the school play ground. At the same time they were listening to the story of "Bambi" being read.

The meeting of the Lincoln School Mothers' Club held in the school Wednesday afternoon, with an attendance of about eighty members. Mrs. Allen Gibson in charge, opened the meeting with the singing of "America". The attendance award was given to Mrs. Evelyn Gailor's first grade.

For the second time for the term. Mrs. Allan Scilly, of Barnes, was the winner of the beautiful crocheted table cloth. Leroy Graybill was honored by selling the most chances.

An original Puppet Show was presented by the pupils of the sixth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Paul Johnson, which proved to be very interesting and amusing.

The audience enjoyed the splendid talk given by Rev. Ivan E. Russell, on the subject "Spiritual Foundation for Natural Living." Mrs. Harry Mickel, who heads the Defense Council of Consumers, gave a helpful talk on fats and the caring of tin cans.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Chester Gaybill's committee, Mrs. Emil Stenat, Mrs. Mike Delman, Mrs. Aaron Magnusson, Mrs. Guy Wenker, Mrs. Eugene Miller and Mrs. Elsie Peterson.

The regular meeting of the Rotary Club was held Tuesday. Guests were W. T. Corbett of Warren and Charles Anderson, who spoke at the luncheon. Birthday greetings were extended to J. M. O'Connor.

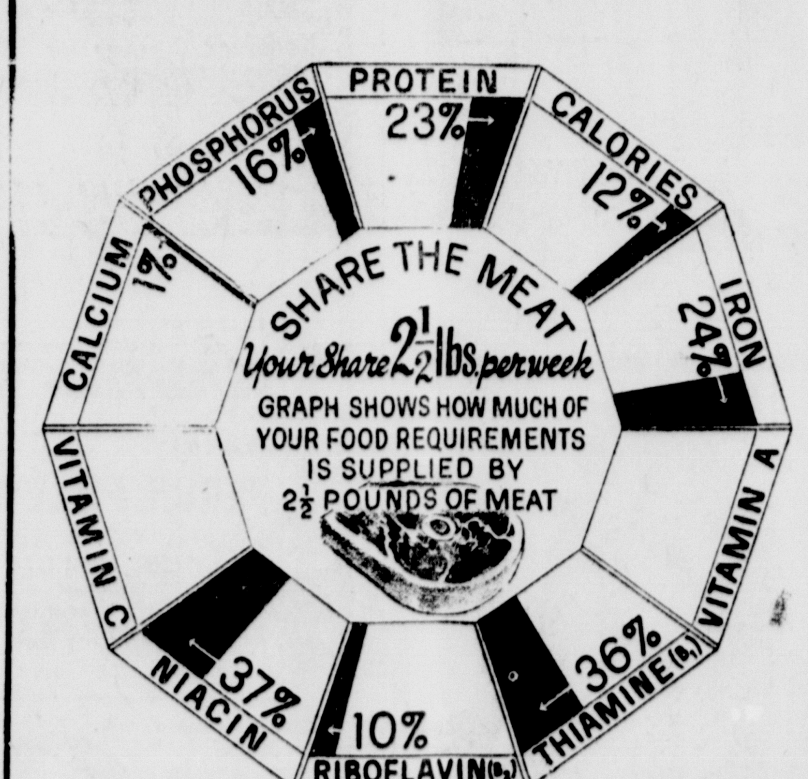

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kennard of St. Marys are the parents of a baby boy born Tuesday. Mrs. Kennard is the former Miss Arline Peterson.

Food E. Thomas, High street, is home on a furlough.

Mrs. C. A. Dahl and Mrs. C. VanMarter were Jamestown visitors Tuesday.

KILLED UNDER SLIDE
Pittsburgh, Jan. 21.—(P)—A sudden slide of tons of slag yesterday crushed to death 11-year-old Billy Gourley as he led a group of players "over the top" of a slag pile during a mock battle. The boy's companions escaped injury. Police and neighbors dug almost half an hour before finding the body beneath about four feet of slag.

ACCEPTED FOR NAVY
Louis Orlo Dalrymple, 514 Water street, was accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Navy Wednesday when Jamestown recruiting officers were in town.

WORKING ON RINK
Members of the Exchange Club and others interested in ice skating are at work today endeavoring to get the rink on Beatty Field back in shape after the thaw so skating can again be enjoyed.

COFFEE RATIONING
The local rationing board calls attention to the fact that industrial and institutional users of coffee must register between now and February 5th. Further information may be secured upon application to the board.

TO MARINE BASE
Pvt. Angelo A. Juliano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Juliano, 1123 Pennsylvania avenue, west, left last evening to begin his training as a U. S. Marine at Parris Island, S. C. He had previously reported there on December 14, but was sent home on inactive duty until the current class was moved out.

ICE IN STREAMS
The cold of the past couple of days has caused much slush ice to pass down the river. The stream was closed for a time yesterday at the upper railroad bridge but later in the afternoon broke loose again. It closed again last evening. Most of the smaller streams are frozen over.

SIGMA NU PLEDGE
Word has been received here that William Meade, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Meade 6 Glenwood street, has been pledged by Sigma Nu Fraternity at Pennsylvania State College. He is the holder of the Wettstone Trophy for being the outstanding gymnast for the year 1942, having won the state championship in tumbling and on parallel bars at the meet held in State College in March, 1942.

JULIANO IS TRANSFERRED
Peter Juliano, for many years employed on the local section of the Pennsylvania has been transferred back to this section from the Clarendon, Saybrook, Tonia and Sheffield section. Mr. Juliano is glad to get back to this vicinity but states that he regrets leaving the many fine friends he made while at work in the section he has been for many months past. His many friends here are glad to welcome him back.

IT'S THE BREAD KNIFE
Just because a woman has a bandage on a finger it's no sign she is trying to remember something. On the other hand it's the fault of the OPA who forced her to slice her bread. And the epidemic of dislocated jaws is only the male members of the family making endeavors to get their mouth over the thick end of the bread sliced. Bread slicing at the bakeries is out and the hardware and department stores as well as the Five and Dimes have practically sold out of saw toothed knives and similar tools for the slicing of the staff of life.

Carolina Boys Aid In Penny Drive

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"We want to see Mr. Morgenthau" was the demand of two youngsters to the desk clerk at the Robert E. Lee hotel here. Each boy was lugging a heavy canvas bag of pennies. "We want to turn these in to Mr. Morgenthau," they explained. "Send them right up," the Secretary of the Treasury told the clerk, and the boys were escorted to Mr. Morgenthau's room where they emptied the contents of their bags, amounting to approximately 2500 pennies. They were congratulated by the Secretary, and their pennies turned into a War Bond purchase. The Treasury is making a drive for the circulation of pennies due to the fact that no more are being minted because of the copper shortage. Pictured here with Mr. Morgenthau are the two boys, Aubrey Pegram and Freddie Hartman, carriers for the Winston-Salem Twin City Sentinel.
